Thinking Out Loud

H. M. L.

The first results of the Literary Digest poll show a two to one majority for Landon. Republican National Chairman John Hamilton, asked by newshawks what he thought of this phenomenon, said: "I will merely quote James A. Farley, who made a statement following the first polls the Literary Digest made in 1932. Mr. Farley said: 'Any sane person cannot escape the implication of such a gigantic sampling of popular opinion as is embraced in the Digest poll. I consider this as conclusive evidence of the desire of the people of this country for a change in the national government. It is a poll fairly and correctly taken'."

James Casey, managing editor of the official Communist newspaper, The Daily Worker, has announced his withdrawal as the party's candidate from the Bronx, his resignation as editor of the paper, and his renunciation of membership in the party He said: "I find this course the only one I can take to maintain my self respect. The Communist party's political bureau has mapped out a program to swing the support of its membership an affiliated mass organization, to President Roosevelt."

Uncle Sam has established a WPA school for bridge in Boston, according to the latest news. Instructors in the game of bridge, it is reported, are paid $1,800 a year to teach those with or without jobs the way to play the game. Over 800 persons during the first two weeks of July dropped in and took bridge lessons at Uncle Sam's Boston Bridge Schools. Californians are being taxed to teach Bostonians how to play bridge.

And speaking of records, as Al Smith frequently did when he was candidate for President, let us take a look at this record: Alf Landon, with a motherless baby girl and very little money enlisted in the World War in 1918. John Hamilton his campaign manager, served in a machine gun outfit. Frank Knox with a splendid Spanish-American War record behind him, 43 years old, married and just going into business, enlisted as a private in 1917, was sent to an officers training camp. He came through the rigors of work which killed off many younger men and served in France with distinction Edward Hayes, Knox' campaign manager, served in the navy throughout the war. All four are active in veterans' organizations.

Franklin Roosevelt was 17 years old when the Spanish War broke out, too young to enlist though many a youngster did enlist at that age. In 1917 Roosevelt was 35, worth a good many millions and in excellent health. He was Assistant Secretary of the Navy at $10,000 a year. He stuck to his job, while Frank Knox served four months and packed a gun 15 hours a day in the training camp. And big, husky Jim Farley when the World War involved the United States, was 29 and subject to draft. But even in those days he was a good politician and quickly got himself exempted. Jack Garner was 30 when Uncle Sam declared war on Spain, but he also stayed home. Well, there it is, it's the record.

George Ade, widely beloved humorist, author and playwright, says: "I am very strongly for Landon and Knox because I have a lingering prejudice in favor of the old fashioned virtues of economy, frugality and careful management. It seems to me that any individual or business or government which gleefully and recklessly goes head over heels into debt because it has a chance to extend its credit, is headed for trouble. It is never a safe plan to live away beyond one's income unless one is prepared later on to meet all the obligations assumed and pay all debts. I think we have tackled too many wild experiments and have wasted great sums of money on projects which were carelessly conceived and foolishly executed. I am for a return to sane and safe methods."

FOUR BUCKS KILLED

Russell B. Farley of Nevada City was in a group of hunters that went to Sierra City and packed into little Haypress Valley where they killed four big bucks. In the group were Roy Terrell, postmaster of Grass Valley, Dewey Johnson, sheriff Sierra county, Art Thomas and Mr. Keisel of Sacramento besides several others.

High School Students Will Edit Nugget, Oct. 9

The newspapers of California next week, from October 5 to 12, will celebrate Newspaper Week. In celebration of this event, the Nevada City Nugget next Friday, October 9, will turn the entire job of writing, editing and issuing the Nugget over to the high school boys and girls on the staff of the High School Searchlight and Quill assisted by others who are pursuing journalistic courses.

L. E. Sweeney of the faculty will be in general charge of the activities of the high school newspaper squad. The work is to be divided up among students in such a manner that the various departments such as social news, sports, police beat, court house detail, building construction, human interest stories, will be all cared for in somewhat the same manner as is done on metopolitan dailies.

This innovation is made in order to inculcate in the minds of these youngsters an idea of the function of a good newspaper and its relation to the welfare of the community. For one day they will tell the week's story of the community. For the newspaper brings all things to its readers that happen in the community. It relates the arrival of the new born babe fresh from heaven. It reflects the sorrow of the passing of an old friend. From birth to death the home town newspaper prints the news of vital interest to the people among whom it circulates.

Newspaper Week is designed to interest the people of each community in their own newspaper. The Nugget publisher cordially invites people of this city to come in and see the machines in operation on Wednesday and Thursday next week. Children of any school are specially invited to come with their parents or older brothers and sisters and watch the many wheels go round. The "front office" of the Nugget is being rennovated this week in anticipation of many visitors. The walls are being newly papered, the ceiling repainted, and the interior generally cleaned and brightened. C. G. Sweeney is in charge of the work.

AN APOLOGY TO CHIEF OF POLICE ROBSON

The thrills with which any spinner of yarns likes to embriodder a good tale based on fact, some times lead to an injustice to the characters in the little drama. For instance the story of four men stranded while on a deer hunt up near Becker Monday in Chief of Police Robson's Black Maria carried an unintentional sting. It was related that the Black Marie was filled with city gas. This was not the case. It was Chief Robson's gas. In the exuberance of spinning a good yarn, the gas incident was one of those superficial embroideries thrown in for good measure. It was presumed to be generally known that the "chief" has a regular monthly allowance granted him by the city council for the use of his car. The cost of operating the car on the city's business usually exceeds the city's allowance therefore. This is written in apology to Chief Robson and to clear up misunderstanding that might arise among those not familiar with the city's system.

Traffic in Highgrade Alleged; Six Nabbed

Five men and one woman, accused of trafficking in highgrade are today out on bail, after being arrested by U. S. secret service treasury agents. The five men are:

W. E. Moulton, grocer and gold buyer of North San Juan and French Corral. out on $10,000 bail.

B. W. Hills, assayer and gold buyer of Grass Valley, reported to be a partner of W. E. Moulton in a mine in Siskiyou county, out on $10,000 bail.

William Frazer, Grass Valley policeman, out on $5,000 bail.

Ben A. Bost, Nevada City gold buyer, out on $5,000 bail.

Judge Walter L. Mobley, justice of peace, Nevada township, out on bail of $1,500.

Miss Ida Davenport, employe of W. L. Moulton, out on bail of $2,500.

The charge against the entire group is that they conspired to evade the provisions of the gold reserve act of 1934.

Attorney George L. Jones and W. E. Wright, employed to defend Judge Mobley state that the charge against their client is purely technical. Judge Mobley signed an affidavit for Ben Bost on one occasion when the latter was suffering from a slight apoplectic stroke and was unable to feed himself, let alone sign his name legibly. It is declared that a little investigation would have revealed his entire innocence of any part in a conspiracy plot.

It is reported that W. E. Moulton in one year sold to the mint some $200,000 of gold.

It is also reported that the gold stolen a few weeks ago from the Remington Hill sluice boxes found its way into the San Francisco mint after being melted up with highgrade gold from various quartz mines in this district. The gold from Remington Hill runs over 900 fine, while that from quartz mines rarely runs over 720 fine.

A sudden increase in the fineness of gold received at the mint from certain sources gave an immediate clue to the detectives to the shippers that they had long been looking for.

It is stated that in addition to five treasury agents there were two G-men busy in the district.

The bail of all six defendants was set by United States J. Quincy Brown in Sacramento, and their hearing and trials will be held in the federal courts.

CAMP PAHATSI WIRED, IMPROVED FOR WINTER USE

Last week end found a work party completing a large part of the electric wiring of the scout lodge at Kilborn Lake and also building frames to increase the sleeping accomodations in the lodge during the winter, which have been crowded.

Conduit was connected and wire pulled through the main hall, first aid, store, office and kitchen rooms. The Delco lighting plant will be placed and wiring completed this week end.

Frames are being set up on which to lay the regular steel spring cots belonging to camp. By building a double deck bunk system, more scouts can be housed for winter snow trips.

District Camp Chairman Leland Smith reports a group of men are going up this week end to complete these jobs and to run a half mile of telephone line into camp for emergency use. A number of parents of scouts and cubs are planning to help make these installations. Each district has been asked to get the help of at least three or four men on this work which must be completed soon, before the mountain storms set in.

BUCK PURSUED BY DOGS PLUNGES OVER BLUFF

There have been several choice deer hunting stories going about Nevada City since hunting season opened, but the following would rate Believe-It-Or-Not Ripley column.

Captain A. H. Willard stated Wednesday that a group of deer hunters with dogs on Rabbit Mountain between Truckee and Lolayton last week heard the dogs jump a deer in dense brush. Before they could reach the spot the animals were baying at something a short distance further on.

In his mad rush to escape the dogs, the deer had jumped a bluff, falling in such a manner that his head was bent back and a horn pierced his brain killing him at once. The dogs were holding their quarry at bay, not a shot had been fired. The hunters plan to purchase deer tags for the dogs next year.

THIS SMALL BOY IS FROM MISSOURI

A local painter took a chew of tobacco, the first in some time, and it stuck to his false teeth. He stepped to one side and took out the lower teeth to remove the tobacco clinging to them when a little boy about four years old popped from behind a nearby tree and said, "What's the matter, feller?" and watched intently as the man slipped his set swiftly into his mouth again. The man said, "A mule kicked me in the jaw son, and knocked my lower teeth out." The sturdy little chap, after looking him over wisely remarked, "Say mister where's the mule?"

DEER SLAYER FAILS TO PAY FINE IS JAILED

Walter Netzel, arrested several months ago for killing deer out of season by Game Warden Earl Hiscox, was brought to the county jail Wednesday and incarcerated. Netzel on being arrested for killing deer out of season was fined $100 with the alternative of going to jail for 50 days. He pleaded that he had a job and would pay the fine if given a little time. Several months elapsed without his paying a cent and he was accordingly taken into custody to serve the jail sentence.

TRI-COUNTY CLUBS TO CONVENE HERE IN OCT.

The Nevada City Woman's Civic Club held a most pleasant program meeting Monday. Mrs. W. H. Mohler of Chico gave a dramatic reading of "Winter Set" by Maxwell Anderson. Mrs. Charles Elliott beautifully sang several solos. Following this program the ladies present enjoyed tea and cakes.

The president announced that Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie had been appointed chairman of education and Mrs. Belle Douglas chairman of resolutions of the Tri-County Federation and that Mrs. Belle Douglas has been appointed chairman of Indian relations of the northern district of the Federated Woman's Clubs of California.

The club decided to invite the Tri-County convention to come to Nevada City for its October meeting. This will be an all day session and Mrs. A. W. Hoge, Mrs. George Gildersleeve and Mrs. DeWitt Nelson will form the committee of arrangements.

Mrs. Charles Elliott was appointed program chairman of the club.

At Monday's meeting Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie was elected treasurer of the club to fill the vacancy made by the passing of the late treasurer and beloved member, Mrs. Benjamin Hall.

Plans for the "Relic and Hobby" show to be held at the Brand Studio were completed at this meeting.

Mrs. Robert Nye and Mrs. Belle Douglas were appointed to confer with the city council at next meeting concerning the application of an amusement enterprise for license.

Mr. Leonard Lageson gave a gift of a box of beautiful Nevada county apples to the club and each member took one home to show what fine apples are grown here.

LIVE YANKEE PROPERTY

The Live Yankee interests have just installed the electric line to the old shaft where the headframe has been completed, and the P. G. & E. company installed a transformer yesterday. A 50 horse power Hendrie Bolthof hoist has been installed and a 16 by 34 foot hoist and compressor house is under construction.

ENGLEBRIGHT DECLARES GOLD WILL STAY PUT

Harry L. Englebright, Congressional Representative of the Second Congressional District, in an interview lately stated that the world price of gold of approximately $35 an ounce will not be reduced if the Republican party, with Landon and Knox win the November election.

"Gold may go higher than $35," added Mr. Englebright "but it will not go below its current price. World stabilization of the price is now under way, under the sponsorship of the United States, England and France, and America will insist that it be accomplished at the present gold level. Gold will be the eventual international basis of the money system and that will create and maintain a demand for gold which will preclude a lowering of the price."

Mr. Englebright being a resident of an important gold producing district and having made a close study of the gold problem speaks with comparative authority. Democratic propaganda has been attempting to instill in the mind of mine workers the fear that Republican victory in November will mean the lowering of the price of gold which might mean less profit for the mines and a possible lowering of wages.

"Absolutely silly," commented Mr. Englebright.

APPLE WEEK GREAT SUCCESS IN COUNTY

County Horticultural Commissioner L. G. Lageson of Nevada county is pleased with the response being given Apple Week. It is planned to make apple week an annual affair. The Stench Of W. P. A.

Revelations of the lengths to which the New Deal is going in its effort to carry the one State of Pennsylvania reveal something of the task before the Republican party to secure an honest, uncorrupted expression of the electorate in November.

The buying of votes is nothing new in American politics, but this is the first time in which they have been bid for in wholesale lots with public money. The uncontroverted facts brought to light in Pennsylvania would be incredible were they not borne out by the undenied existence of similar conditions in practically every politically doubtful State in the Union. The political debauchery of relief has long been notorious; as election approaches it takes on the aspect of a willful attempt at national corruption. The administration not merely refuses to investigate and correct these conditions and punish those directly responsible; it is spending new millions from the public purse to hide the truth about them. The Works Progress Administration now employs 300 press agents, headed by the ablest propaganda experts to be had for money—public money — to praise it in print, pictures and films. It is flooding the country with costly booklets, lavishly illustrated, miles of motion pictures and bales of press matter, all lauding the New Deal's great and "non-political" re-employment effort.

And in Blair county, Pennsylvania, W. P. A. workers are driven by hundreds in government trucks to the registrar's office and compelled, under the eyes of New Deal foremen, to change their registration to Democratic. In Philadelphia they are warned so to register on pain of their jobs. In Pottsville, W. P. A. officials are withholding 5 per cent of their pay until after election. In Johnstown a lame-duck Democratic politician with an embezzlement record but no other qualifying experience is made a work relief foreman. In Chester wholesale changes of registration are the price of jobs. In Schuylkill county W. P. A. workers are used to erect roadside signs urging the re-election of Roosevelt. In Pittsburgh they earn their pay by improving the private property of Democratic politicians. The state administrator, a machine politician, has on his pay roll 270,251 persons, 26,000 more than the biggest private corporation in the world.

Unparalleled? Unprecedented? In Buchanan county, Missouri, hundreds of W. P. A. workers were escorted, on public paid-for time, to registration offices and registered Democratic in a single day. In New York dead men, convicts and persons with non-existent addresses are on the W. P. A. Democratic rolls, thousands have been so enrolled on forged work cards and enormous grafting in W. P. A. truck hire goes unpunished. In West Virginia the State Relief Administration candidly declares his intent to become Governor on the strength of the 55,000 W. P. A. voters whom he controls, because "they know where they got their jobs." In Missouri the Pendergast machine is using the W. P. A. organization to carry the State for Roosevelt. In Illinois Democratic politicians and hangers-on get the high-pay W. P. A. jobs; competent men without New Deal affiliations get those at $55 a month. In California W. P. A. workers are frankly and repeatedly required to divide their pay with the Democratic campaign fund. In Ohio the situation is so scandalous that the Governor made a personal trip to Washington to protest against it. And so on. There is hardly a contested State without a similar slush-fund tale to tell.

Is the administration trying to stop it? On the contrary, it is doing everything possible with money—public money—to hold the lid down and the stench in until these votes can be counted for Roosevelt on November 3. Despite its claims of recovery accomplished it is steadily adding to the work-relief rolls where votes are needed; 30,000 have been so added in the past few months. Investigation? There will be none until after election and then by a packed Senate committee with an appropriation cut down to but $5000.

In the light of all these circumstances it is hard to accept any other explanation than that—the President to the contrary notwithstanding—the work-relief policy was not only political from the start, but was created for that purpose. only. There is no other explanation that fits the facts. If it is true, the New Deal stands convicted of the most gigantic and brazenly deliberate effort to buy votes with public or private money ever made in this or any other country—The Los Angeles Times.

FARM LABOR IS KNOTTY PROBLEM

(By FRANK H. TAYLOR)

In the heat of controversy, it is exceedingly difficult to weigh the merits and demerits of any issue fairly and dispassionately, but the present agitation in California to unionize farm workers certainly calls for clear heads and rational action if tragic consequences are to be avoided.

Not only is the movement foredoomed to failure—if past history means anything—but it is almost a certainty to play into the hands of Communists and radical agitators who are the enemies of both labor and agriculture.

California labor leaders have repeatedly admitted in the past that it is both impractical and impossible to unionize farm workers—due to the peculiar problems of migratory and seasonal labor, the laws of nature which defy union-made rules as to hours of labor, and the many other hazards of farm business which upset the farmer's calculations even more than the farm worker's.

The same labor leaders have also confessed that previous experiments in unionization of farm laborers almost invariably resulted in Communists wresting control from labor and dominating the organizations.

That, undoubtedly, is the greatest danger in the present situation. If farm labor unions are actually formed throughout California, they will inevitably come under the control of the Communist organizers, who travel with the seasonal workers, and whose insidious organization reaches into every corner of the country. And the Communist program is definitely designed to foment hate and distrust, without regard to the welfare of either farmers or farm workers, but with the sole purpose of promoting strife and bloodshed which will speed their dream of revolution.

Both the State Federation of Labor and the American Federation of Labor have fought courageously and intelligently against radical attemps to undermine their organizations and, in all probability, the real leaders of California labor are just as fearful of the proposal to unionize California agricultural workers as agriculture itself.

The most serious threat in the present situation is that labor's leadership will yield to the demands for farm-worker unionization against their own best judgment, due to pressure from radical influences in their own groups and from Communists who have cleverly and deliberately incited farm laborers to demand organization.

In some areas, the Communists have boldly laid down the ultimatum to Organized Labor that "Either you organize the farm workers, or we will!" From the standpoint of the radicals, that is smart strategy. They recognize that the rank and file of farm workers will not knowingly affiliate with a Communist organization, whereas the Federation of Labor commands respect and has a much better chance to secure support. And once the organization is formed, the Communists can resort to their usual tactics of "boring from within!!"

Efforts to unionize farm workers have failed in every section of the United States where they have been undertaken. They are inevitably doomed to failure in California. It is to be hoped that calm judgment and cool deliberation will prevent the attempt—and avoid the heavy financial losses to both workers and farmers, the bitterness and tragic consequences which would otherwise result.

There will be an important meeting of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce next Monday evening, it was announced yesterday by Fred E. Conner, president. There will be an open forum for discussion of the measures proposed on the November ballot. Opponents of the chain store license measure have asked permission to be heard and the board of directors have agreed to hear them along with anyone else who is in favor of the measure. It is understood that this project has been forwarded to Washington for approval by WPA officials there.

BURGLAR ASKS SIGNER OF COMPLAINT FOR LOAN

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 30.—Some people have nerve; others have more, but it is believed that Ernest Kretchmar, recently sentenced to five years to life in San Quentin on a burglary charge tops the list.

A few days ago A. J. Massa, who signed the complaint against Kretchmar, and who appeared as witness at the preliminary against him, received a letter from Kretchman, advising him of his sentence, and asking Massa to loan him some money with which to hire a lawyer and try to get out on parole. Of course, he sent it to him!

Major S. Haney, of this city went to San Francisco early this week and is spending a few days on business.

DAVID BELASCO SCHOOL TO FIND STAGE TALENT

A net work of schools spread throughout Northern California to search out and develop talent for the stage, the dance and the radio, was announced today by David Belasco, founder of the David Belasco School of Dramatic and Radio Arts.

Belasco is the nephew and namesake of the late famed producer who rose from a humble San Francisco background to become the theatrical dean of three generations. The school was founded in San Francisco to meet a rapidly growing demand for new dramatic talent in every field, he said.

With a large resident enrollment in San Francisco, Belasco is now branching out into smaller communities under a system of extension divisions to be conducted by local dramatic leaders and also served by traveling faculty members from the main school in San Francisco.

He invites interested people here to communicate with the San Francisco school in order to determine whether there is sufficient local interest to justify the establishment of an extension unit The San Francisco school includes in its large factulty such noted teachers as:

Mabel Farrington Gifford, California Director of the Bureau of Speech Defects of the State Department of Education; Lucy Cuddy noted radio-dramatic impressario, 15 years head of dramatics of State Teacher's College; James C. Morgan, program director of Radio Station KSFO; Charles Yule, make-up artist, noted character actor who played under the elder Belasco; R. Graham Paris; Alice Bluhm Rebstock, ballet and adagio teacher, who was solo dancer with the San Francisco, San Carlos and Pacific Opera Companies; Jerry Chapman, noted tap dance instructor; Elizazeth Mann, Chapman's assistant; and Marian Hayes, juvenile expert assisting Mrs. Cuddy in child dramatics.

In each community having an extension division, plans call for a unit of the David Belasco Foundation to be founded for purely local philanthropic purposes. Under a committee of prominent people in each city or town, part of the profits of each extension unit will be used for local philantrhophy of any character the local committee may deem worthy to receive such funds.

Mr. and Mrs. Mowat were delighted with Nevada City.

NEW MANAGER FOR PHONE HERE

Appointment of E. E. Hoss to the managership of the Nevada City and Grass Valley telephone exchanges was announced yesterday by E. C. Le Count, District Manager of the telephone company. Hoss succeeds E. P. Merrill, who has been named to head the telephone organization in Vacaville.

Hoss brings to his new duties the benefits of varied experience gained in the Sacramento telephone offices where he held responsible positions.

Active in civic and club work in the capitol, Hoss served on the Sacramento Community Chest, and holds membership in the Elks Club and the Luncheon Club of the Retailer's Credit Association. He is a vice president of the Sacramento Polo Club.

Merrill was appointed to the local managership following several years of responsible work in the Fresno telephone offices. During his seervice here he was prominent as a member of the Nevada City and Grass Valley Chambers of Commerce, and as a member and committee man of the Rotary Club in Grass Valley.

MAYFLOWER MINE

According to reports a crew started working at the Mayflower mine on Gold Flat within the past few days. The mine has a mill and mine equipmeent and was sold recently, having been idle for several years. The compressor is being reconditioned, new steps constructed in the mill and brush cut about the mine plant.

There is nothing remarkable about it (Landon's program); it is plain homely, grass-roots common sense.

CONCERT MUSIC SERIES TO OPEN IN SACRAMENTO

Five of the world's greatest concert attractions will be presented this season by the Sacramento Music Series. All performances, except one, will be held in Memorial Auditorium, 16th and J streets, which affords sufficient seating capacity to accomodate music lovers from all of northern California.

Kirsten Flagstad, Norweigian soprano, who earned in one season the title of the "greatest living soprano of the world", will open the series with a concert Wednesday evening, November 4. This will be Mme. Flagstad's only concert in northern California.

The Jooss European Ballet will make its first appearance Wednesday evening, December 2. This ballet, making its first tour of the United States, attracted capacity houses for two seasons in New York, and is considered one of the three great dance groups of the world.

The Kolisch quartet, world-famous instrumental ensembles, will be heard January 9 on its first Sacramento appearance. This concert will be held in a Sacramento theatre, according to present plans.

The Ballet Russe, witnessed by a capacity audience in Sacramento two seasons ago, will return to dance early in February. The ballet comes fresh from European triumphs with new ballets and new costumes planned for this performance.

Marion Anderson, American Negro contralto, known for her sensational season in Europe and New York last year, will be heard February 23. Miss Anderson's three New York performances were entirely sold out—an unprecedented record.

Management of the Sacramento Music Series this year is by Mabel Hazelton and Carolyn E. Ware, with Henry J. McFarland, Jr., assistant manager. It is sponsored by the Citizens Committee of Sacramento and the Sacramento Saturday Club.

The present debt of the government if divided on a per capita basis amounts to about $415 for every man, woman and child in the nation.

GRACEY MINE

During the past month crews have sunk 75 feet below the 430 foot level in the Gracey mine shaft. Hard diabase has been encountered and the management states new machinery has been given a particularly hard test and it is considered that a good record has been made in sinking on the projected 200 feet. Twelve sets have been put in below the 430 foot level. The mine is operating three shifts. Besides recent reconditioning in the mill the company has added Deister concentrating tables and equipped the mill to handle custom ore. One hundred tons of ore from the Marks or Daisy Blue property is at the mill to be treated for gold recovery.

AUG. LIQUOR TAX SHOWS INCREASE

SACRAMENTO, Oct 1.—The California excise tax assessments on beer and wine continue to show an increase over those of a year ago according to the State Board of Equalization which today announced beverage tax assessments of $200,302.-05 for the month eended August 31, 1936.

The increase of $7,082.82 over the assessments for August, 1935, represents a gain of 4.2 per cent.

Californians continued to show a preference for the products of California breweries, 90 per cent, 7,-609,137.5 gallons out of a total of 8,458,296.5 gallons of the beer sold during the month having been produced in this state.

TEACHERS SAY NEW TENURE LAW UNNECESSARY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—Declaring Constitutional Amendment No. 11 on the November 3 ballot, changing the present form of teacher tenure, to be "unnecessary because California already has a tenure law, enacted by the legislature, which is regarded as a model throughout the United States," a committee of prominent state educators today urged a "No" vote on the amendment.

The statement opposing the amendment, issued in this city today, was signed by John F. Brady, deputy superintendent of schools in this city, by C. B. Couch, chairman of the State Tenure Committee of the California Teachers Association and by Ray C. Eberhard, representing the Affilliated Teacher Organizations of Los Angeles.

"Organizations representing 93 per cent of the teachers of the state, the Parent Teacher Association, the American Association of University Women and other organizations which are strongly in favor of a fair teacher tenure law are just as strongly opposed to this amendment" the statement reads.

"As submitted the amendment is both unnecessary and undesirable. It is unnecessary because we already have a tenure law and undesirable because it is unwise to freeze a mass of experimental administrative detail into the Constitution, subject to amendment, even in the most minute detail only at a general election."

The statement concludes:

"No law, fundamentally unfair, can endure. This proposal dooms itself. It is unjust. It is unworkable. It is unsound. It should not be written into the constitution. For the best interests of the schools we urge all citnzens to vote "No."

READ THESE FACTS

Hiding under the title of "Retail Store License," Proposition 22 on the November ballot is really a tax on you. Proposing to tax individual stores $1 a year and chains $500 for each store over nine, it must be defeated because:

It Would Raise Prices
The U. S. Federal Trade Commission says: "If the ability to undersell, based on greater efficiency or on elimination of credit and delivery cost is destroyed by taxation it is the consuming public which will really pay the tax and not the chain."

It Would Be Unfair
It is an attempt to destroy competition by taxation.
Small chain stores would be taxed up to 500,000 times as much per dollar of sales as big department stores.

It Would Hurt California
Chain stores benefit California consumers, farmers, employment, taxpayers, investors and property owners. To cripple them is to hurt all California business.

CRAMPTON TO REMAIN AT REMINGTON HILL

Frank A. Crampton, manager of the Remington Hill mine, has been advised by Dr. W. W. Reed to take a much needed rest. A week ago, when on the train returning from Los Angeles, Crampton suffered a serious heart attack. Unfortunately the recent sluice box robbery at the mine has necessitated constant activity which has aggravated the heart condition and makes rest an absolute necessity.

Amos W. Blerwagen who has been assisting Mr. Crampton in the management of the mine will be in active charge of operations and the preparation of the mine and property for winter work. Mr. Crampton plans to remain at his home at the mine.

MASONIC RITES HELD FOR MILL CREEK PIONEER

CAMPTONVILLE, Sept. 30.—Joseph Sommers, pioneer farmer of the Mill Creek section, passed away at the home of his daughter Mrs. Abner Kennady at Berekeley, following a stroke which came upon him a few days ago.

He was born at Niesse, Germany, March 1, 1858, and spent his childhood in the native country, coming to California as a young man. He bought a ranch in the Mill Creek section, six miles west of town, where he spent his life, tilling the soil and raising a large family.

Like many of the other pioneers who pass to the great beyond, he will leave a vacancy that will not be filled. He was of a good nature, always pleasant, and well liked by his many neighbors and friends. He played his part in the early day activities in this section.

Deceased is survived by the following children, Mrs. Marguerite Kennady of Berkeley, Mrs. Gertrude Wright, Mrs. La Verne Roberts, San Francisco, Frank Sommers of Santa Cruz, and Albert Sommers of Nevada City. He is likewise survived by the following step children; Mrs. Katie Humphrey of Flourney, Mrs. Mary Kennady of Oroville, Mrs. Elizabeth Halkyard, San Francisco, Mrs. Johanna Turner and Louis Marquardt of Camptonville.

OPEN LETTER TO U. S. ATTORNEY GEN. CUMMINGS

Auburn, California,
September 24, 1936.

The Honorable Homer G. Cumming
Attorney General of the United States,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

If, as you say there is a Federal statute providing for a $1,000 fine, a year in jail or both, for anyone making any written or oral statement tending to make anyone believe that any part of the price of an article is due to a Federal tax why not make a test case with the President who on October 19, 1932, said:

"TAXES ARE PAID in the sweat of every man who labors—Our workers may never see a tax bill, but they pay in deductions from wages, in increased cost of what they buy, or (as now) in broad cessation of employment. . . Our people and our business cannot carry its excessive burdens of taxation . . ."

This statement was made when the hidden taxes were but thirty two per cent of the total taxes whereas today they are close to sixty two.

If the administration is so opposed to the "horse and buggy" age why resurrect a law which was passed even prior to that age?

The merchant to defend himself from the charge of profiteering, is compelled to tell the purchaser how great a part of the price of the article he is selling, goes for taxes.

The housewife knows that many articles she buys are prohibitive in price, and has to curtail on the necessities in order to make both ends meet.

She wonders why bacon is fifty cents a pound, canned milk has advanced two cents, bread, flour, meat, etc., have all advanced in the same ratio but she does not know that twenty five cents out of every dollar she spends goes to the government in taxes and should be told.

It is inconceivable that the President who was so anxious to educate the public as to the dangers of the concealed tax in 1932 should wish to withhold this information now.

"You know and we know" that this law is in restraint of free speech and a free press and if put to the test would undoubtedly be declared unconstitutional.

Respectfully,
A. L. CRANE.

FIFTEEN YEAR OLD BOY ROBBER OF ALPHA STORE

Prompt action on the part of Sheriff Carl Tobiassen caused the apprehension of the person who stole the guns from the Alpha store on Sunday. It was a young boy, William Haynes of Vallejo, aged 15. The young lad was taken in custody Wednesday by Sheriff Johnson of Lassen county. He was acting suspiciously on the streets of Susanville, Lassen county, and was taken by the authorities, there and questioned.

Sheriff Johnson had broadcast by teletype the facts of the Alpha store robbery and the property stolen and had also mailed postcards listing the stolen articles.

Young Haynes confessed that the Plymouth coupe in which he was traveling was stolen in Sonoma county. He also admitted that he burglarized the Alpha hardware store Sunday night. He insisted that he had no accomplice. He had several guns in his automobile, two of which were listed on the card sent out by Sheriff Tobiassen He also had watches and flash lights similar to those stolen from the Alpha store.

The boy told Sheriff Johnson that he had made trades of guns enroute from Nevada City to Susanville.

The Sonpma county sheriff has a prior claim over that of Sheriff Tobiassen, so the lad will be turned over to him first.

The articles stolen from the Alpha store are in the hands of Sheriff Johnson and will be returned to the store.

NEVADA COUNTY WOMEN TO BACK LANDON, KNOX

Women of Nevada county have organized a Landon-Knox club. The meeting at which the organization was formed took place in Grass Valley and was attended by a large number of enthusiastic women. Organization was effected by the election of Mrs. James T. Wales, as chairman, Mrs. Lucy Bailey, vice chairman and Mrs. Daraade Hubbard, secretary.

It was decided to organize the women of the county by precincts and Mrs. Bailey, Mrs Elizabeth Stevens, Mrs. Grace Koehler, Edna D. Shebley, Mary Debeque and Mrs. Harry George, were named as chairmen of their precincts.

Edna Shebley is a member of the pioneer Democratic family of that name and her acceptance of the work of organizing her precinct for the Republican party was greeted with cheers.

At the meeting there was discussion of the proper method of procedure in precinct work. The optimism for local Republican success in November as expressed by several of the women, was received with applause.

The young Republicans of Nevada County have organized the Young Republican Club and the meeting voted to cooperate with it during the campaign.

STILL SEEKING JEFF CASSERLY'S CACHED GOLD

Miss Jean Kuster, granddaughter of the late Jefferson A. Casserly, and her mother of San Francisco made a trip to this section this week in an effort to identify a spot the girl claims her grandfather pointed out four years ago as being of interest to her when he had died. B. F. Hack of San Francisco registered at the Bret Harte Inn, Grass Valley Tuesday evening and left early Wednesday evidently in search of the spot. It is stated he later phoned to the bay district stating his trip had been unsuccessful so far. While the late Casserly had a large nugget and some currency he kept his own counsel on his business affairs and said very little of money matters.

It is regarded as possible that he might have pointed out the spot to this child who believes she can locate it.

DRY-WET DRIVES OPEN IN STATE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 1.—"Look out for the false front," was the warning which local ministers, temperance and church leaders received this week from Miss Ethel Hubler, California newspaper editor, as the wet and dry campaign warmed up in preparation for the November 3 election.

"Liquor interests are trying to hide behind the women's skirts in their campaign to put over Proposition No. 3, (the liquor dealers' measure) and to defeat Proposition No. 9 (local option)" Miss Hubler declared.

"It's time for the women of this state to take the situation in hand. California is the black spot of America in its handling of the liquor question. It is a disgrace to my sex that any woman would allow her name to be connected with such a measure as Proposition No. 3 that would declare beer ('non-intoxicating' and permit its sale to children. Many cities and communities in this state want to deal with the problem as they see fit and to be free from present open saloon conditions. Today they are denied that right, but they would regain it if Proposition No. 9 carries in November."

Meanwhile headquarters of the United Dry Forces in San Francisco and Los Angeles announced the appointment of campaign managers in the 20 congressional districts in the state. Under the supervision of these congressional district managers approximately 6000 volunteer canvassers will begin a house-to-house canvass October 1 in behalf of the local option measure.

Will C. Fouyer, former local traffic officer who has been transferred to the Dunsmuir checking station in an effort to improve his health, was a Nevada City visitor yesterday. He told friends he had a close call a few days ago when he attempted to examine a driver's certificate as he entered California. The man drew a revolver as Fouyer stopped him, pointing it at the officer's belt. In a second Fouyer wrested the gun away from him and with the help of his assistant the man was overpowered and arrested. Finger prints were sent to headquarters and it is stated they revealed the man was wanted in Illinois for killing a child and woman.

WATSON PROPERTY

Dr. H. Long and associates, who have an option on the Watson and the Bettcher properties near the Excelsior Water Company dam on Deer Creek east of Nevada City, have closed down for the winter months due to rising water. A shaft was sunk in Deer Creek but the heavy flow of water drove them out and they started another on the incline in the bank. Rising water gave trouble again so it was closed until spring when they will return for active work.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Wyoming Tribe to Hold Masquerade Dance

Wyoming Tribe of Red Men of Nevada City will hold a dance in the hall at Alleghany Saturday evening. The famed snake dance will be a leading feature.

While Wyoming Tribe was instituted about 45 years ago Nevada county boasts the oldest tribe in the state that being Lost Tribe of Red Dog. All officers wore animal skins costumes and there was quite an organization. The lodge received its name from the fact that papers being sent to headquarters in the east for the founding of the lodge were lost when the party was attacked by Indians and massacred. The lodge went out of existence in an unique way also. When the Great Sachem, or leader, went to one of the early day gold or silver rushes into the state of Nevada nearly all members of the lodge followed him.

MORE ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT, SAYS HI SERVICE CLUB

The High School Service Club held a meeting Wednesday, September 30, 1936 with its new officers in charge.

The club voted in new members and anticipate more next week.

Discussions were held on various ways of rendering service to the high school and its organizations. Outstanding among these were the necessity of athletic equipment. Especially the football helmets, and basketball uniforms. The plan was made and carried to have a party with the proceeds to go into the athletic fund.

A committee of two was appointed to see the principal and arrange for a party.

A Glimpse of Building Activity

Vol. 1. OCTOBER 2, 1936. No. 45.

Contractor R. P. Museter has been awarded the contract of remodeling the Carveth Insurance Agency building in Nevada City and has commenced work on this job. This is the second property on Commercial street to be improved lately, the grocery store of Angilini and Cigoni having been constructed last year.

Seasonal weather indications would make the prudent householder look to his roof. We have sent out a lot of good cedar and redwood shingles during the past week and a lot more are ordered to go out. Better get that roof fixed NOW!

Contractor Ralph Cochrane has the new Hummelt home roofed with perfect cedar shingles. The side walls are to be of 18 inch Perfection shingles laid with an 8 inch exposure to the weather. This method with these shingles gives a very fine appearance with a heavy shadow line on the wall. Steel sash with modernistic corners are another feature of this job.

A new welded mesh in 18 guage and 20 gauge wire for stucco and interior plastering is now on the market. Called Pacific Mesh it is stronger than the woven wire and makes a much stronger stucco or plaster wall. Very reasonably priced.

Several Federal Housing Administration loan jobs are under way in Grass Valley and Nevada City. If you want to build and do not have the ready cash it may pay you to investigate this method of financing your new home. We can advise you regarding the FHA single mortgage plan.

Doctor: "Your husband will never be able to work again."

Fanny: "Ah'll go and tell 'im. It will suttinly cheer him up."
